Your Monthly Information Source for Everything AdQue.

Good Morning!

We are very excited to release our new website! Our landing page has been updated to better reflect our tech savvy and we have some exciting new additions. Your monthly Generic Images are included, plus a few extra items. An apology that the new InfoQue backgrounds were not immediately available last month, they were added to the Media Browser but not set as public assets. Also, don't forget to dust off the Halloween themed Manager's Message backgrounds and add them to your storyboards.

Just Released!

New AdQue Website

Our new landing page is complete with banner ads and a sliding menu. In that menu you will notice a few new items and many updates. Biggest additions include:

- New: Banner Ads – look for current AdQue Information and Reminders showcasing upcoming events and product updates.
- New: Photo Gallery – look through images of AdQue sites. See unique ways of using AdQue and gather ideas.
- New: Tutorials – A tutorials section has been added! An InfoQue Weather Tutorial is currently available, be on the lookout for more tutorials soon.
- Updated: Downloads – New and updated information about AdQue.

We hope you enjoy the new site and features we have added. Please send us any comments or questions.

SWiSH Tips & Tricks

Don't forget to upgrade to SWiSHmax3. SWiSHmax2 is being discontinued. We are transitioning over to the new version. All generic images will be created with this version and you will need it to be able to edit the images. Good news: until October 16th the upgrade price is only $16.95, so upgrade now at www.swishzone.com.

October Generic Images...

Fall weather is here and this month's generic images have seasonal flair with falling leaves. Since we had such a great response to the digital clock and date last month, it has been included in this month's series as well.

Refresher Training...

With the release of our tutorials page, we want to know what you want to know. Before we create more tutorials, we need to know what topics you want to see first. Simple or Complex—we want to create the tutorials that will help you the most; whether it is about searching in the Media Browser or how to best use our Employee Message Boards. For anyone that feels they could use some refresher training, we would like to offer free re-training for the month of October, so you can help guide us in the tutorials we create.

Public Service Images...

After many requests for images with information about the H1N1 Flu, we thought we would release images for everyone's use. Images detail ways to stay Healthy and Prevent the Flu. Images can be found in the Media Browser under Category--Other, Topic--Public Service.

October 15th is International Credit Union Day and we have included images for this theme. These images can be found in the Media Browser under Category--Other, Topic--Special Events.
