Your Monthly Information Source for Everything AdQue.

Good Morning!

This month we have begun a redesign of our homepage, see details below. As promised last month, a new series of InfoQue backgrounds to match the holiday images has been released. Go to the Media Browser to check them out, along with this month's generic images. A new version of SWiSH, SWiSHmax3, has been released. October's generic images will likely be the last produced with SWiSHmax2. See below for information about upgrading. We also have a preview of items in the works for the rest of this year.

In the Works:

There are always multiple projects in the works, and we thought we would share some of the ideas that are in the tank—the “think-tank” that is.

- More functionality in the Web-based Editor—drop shadows, shapes, color selector, etc.
- Easier addition of logos to existing generic images using SWF's as a background in the Web-based Editor
- More control over display of InfoQue data and backgrounds—possible web editor addition
- Tutorials on how to use AdStudioExpress

All of these items are in different stages of progress and will be released based on demand and ease of addition. Please let us know if you are particularly interested in any one of these items or if there is something we haven't thought about yet.

SWiSH Tips & Tricks

Good news, bad news for this month's SWiSH tip. Good news: a new version SWiSHmax3 has been released with more power and options than SWiSHmax2. Bad news: We have learned that SWiSHmax2 is being discontinued. So, we need to transition over to the new version. Good news: from now until October 16th the upgrade price is only $16.95, so upgrade now at www.swishzone.com.

September Generic Images...

Back by popular demand, a digital clock and date are found in the bottom left corner of this month's series. We always welcome design requests and ideas. Please let us know what you would like to see.

AdQue Homepage Facelift:

Our homepage is not headed to the plastic surgeon, but we are getting out a scalpel. This month we have begun cutting out the old and updating our homepage. The changes will not be released until sometime next month, but here is an overview of what's in progress. First, there will be no changes to how you manage your sites, so no worries about having to re-learn where buttons are. What you will see is a more high tech environment with easier navigations for information about AdQue. We are adding a flash banner, so we can quickly change messages about features, additions, and new products—think mini-online AdQue. There will also be a quick and easy way to sign up for the newsletter, so tell all your friends to join. Along with newsletter sign up, there will also be a quick link to contact us, just in case you can't remember our phone number or email. We are very excited about the new look, and can't wait to share it with you next month.
